

Risk management and insurance for the chemical and related trades industry

Specialist insurance policies covering the chemical sector

Insurance premium discounts are available for all members

Technological advancements create new and evolving risks. The use of the internet, intellectual properties, the push towards sustainability and renewables, and increasing cost of materials are just a few of the considerations and challenges for those businesses involved in the chemical sector.

The tendency to resort to litigation when something goes wrong is unlikely to diminish and, combined with the increasing use of contractual agreements within supply chain relationships, means that a 'traditional' insurance policy wording cannot always be relied upon as a means of seeking balance sheet protection. All companies in the chemical related sector need an insurance broker who understands the risks and can respond by providing a bespoke and tailored risk and insurance strategy with a commercially aware and financially strong Insurer.

Yorkshire Chemical Focus (YCF) has launched a new partnership with W Denis Insurance Brokers Plc, to offer specialist insurance to YCF members and those considering membership. Yorkshire Chemical Focus aims to support the Yorkshire and wider region's industry through the provision of specialist training, technical support and networking.

W Denis has created a bespoke insurance policy for the chemical sector. This insurance policy is underwritten by a number of A rated insurers, in partnership with W Denis.

Subject to qualifying criteria a free 12 month membership of YCF will also be included for all companies who take out insurance with W. Denis.
